Earth Day 2003 “Preserving the Environment While Protecting Our Freedom”

What is Earth Day?

Earth Day is an international event demonstrating concern for the environment. Earth Day was first celebrated on April 22, 1970. It sparked the first major piece of environmental legislation: The Clean Air Act and Clean Water Act. The Army uses the national celebration of Earth Day to call particular attention to the importance of the environment among soldiers, civilians, their families, and to our local community.

Mrs. Mary Miller is shown talking with housing occupants while selecting flowers at the Self-help Stores at Camp Zama and SFHA in observance of Earth Day.

Flowers and shrubs play a vital role in revitalizing the earth's environment. Flowers and shrubs add a visual beauty to the surroundings and help maintain a physical setting within the area. The DPW Housing Management Division Self-Help Stores are providing flowers and shrubs for all family housing and bachelor's residents for this year's Earth Day celebration. The flowers and shrubs will be available for pickup beginning 18 April (Friday) and ending 24 April (Thursday) at the self-help store in your area
